

Matthew Patrick Dolan

Attorney Matthew Patrick Dolan is a practitioner of Labor and Employment Law in Chicago. Mr. Dolan's practice focuses primarily on discrimination claims brought under federal law, including Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the Age Discrimination in Employment Act.

Prior to opening his own practice, Mr. Dolan worked for the City of Chicago Department of Law's Building & License Enforcement Division as a law clerk, dealing primarily with Housing Code Violations. He also served as an extern for the Honorable Samuel Der-Yeghiayan of the Northern District of Illinois.

Dolan received his Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from DePaul University and his J.D. from Loyola University Chicago. While at Loyola University Chicago School of Law, he was a member of the 2009 National Championship team in the annual Robert F. Wagner Labor & Employment Law Moot Court Competition. He was also given the Best Oralist Award in the competition. Dolan is a member of the American Bar Association, Illinois State Bar Association, Chicago Bar Association, National Employment Lawyers Association of Illinois, and the Andersonville Chamber of Commerce. He is a resident of the Andersonville neighborhood on Chicago's north side.

As a labor and employment law attorney, he has placed a great deal of emphasis and study on the significance of effective leadership for the wellbeing of organizations. His early interest in leadership studies and politics has helped shape his law practice emphasis. Matthew Dolan was raised in a law enforcement family that includes three generations of police leaders. He has a strong appreciation for the position police leaders occupy in public safety as well as the significant role they play in society. Dolan has experience working in political campaigns and is actively pursuing a career in public service.
